

UCI IRVINE | THE PAUL MERAGE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Faculty Position in Information Systems

The Paul Merage School of Business at the University of California, Irvine is seeking candidates to fill a tenure-track position in Information Systems to begin as early as July 1, 2018. The position may be at any rank: Assistant Professor (untenued), Associate Professor (with tenure) or Full Professor (with tenure).

We are seeking individuals with active research programs in Information Systems, especially candidates who specialize in the Economics of Information Systems or in Business Analytics. Preference may be given to candidates who are qualified to teach courses in advanced data analytics (e.g. machine learning, natural language processing, and big data management). Evidence of or the potential for excellent teaching in the MBA core is desirable. A Ph.D. in Information Systems or relevant discipline, completed by Summer 2018, is required. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The School's programs are focused on developing leaders for a digitally-driven world. It offers full-time, part-time, and executive MBA programs, a Master of Science in Business Analytics, four specialized Masters programs, a Bachelor's in Business Administration, a Bachelor's in Information Management (joint with the School of Information and Computer Science), and a high-quality Ph.D. program. The School is committed to research and scholarship with teaching responsibilities in the Ph.D., MBA and Undergraduate Programs.

The Information Systems faculty at Merage have long been recognized for their research and scholarship. Information Systems faculty have served on the editorial boards of Information Systems Research, Management Science and MIS Quarterly. The School places its Ph.D. graduates in the best research universities.
