IEEE Intelligence and Security Informatics (ISI) 2018

November 8 - 10, 2018 // Florida International University, Miami FL

http://isi18.azurewebsites.net/

Highlights of the IEEE ISI 2018 conference include:

- 2 Keynotes and 1 tutorial from distinguished speakers
    - Prof. Engin Kirda @ Northeastern University
        - Title: Quo Vadis? A Look at the Evolution of the Security of Web Applications
    - Prof. Kathleen Carley @ Carnegie Mellon University
        - Title: Social Cyber-Security
    - Dr. Michael Vai @ MIT Lincoln Laboratory
        - Title: Security Design of Mission-Critical Embedded Systems

- The presentation of 38 full papers and 6 short papers on the diverse topics including systems, methodology, test-bed, modelling, evaluation, and policy of intelligence and security informatics.

Program

- November 8 & 9   : Keynotes
- November 9   : Tutorial
- November 8 – 10   : Main Track

Registration

- FIU Faculty, Students, and Staffs   : $25 (All sessions without lunch/banquet)
- NIST NICE participants   : $50 (1-day w. lunch), $100 (3-days w. lunches)
- Local Florida Residents   : $250 (student), $300 (IEEE member), $400 (else)
- Regular   : $450 (student), $580 (IEEE member), $660 (else)