Call for Papers

IRIS 2024 – The 47th Information Systems Research Seminar in Scandinavia
SCIS 2024 – The 15th Scandinavian Conference of Information Systems
Theme: "Improving Society for All with IS" August 11th-14th, 2024 in Iceland

We call for contributions to the IRIS/SCIS 2024 conference. This is the annual leading event for Nordic IS researchers organized by the Scandinavian Chapter of the Association for Information Systems (AIS), the IRIS association, established in 1978. The event has two co-located parts with their distinctive formats but shared and common participation between them. IRIS/SCIS has never been held in Iceland before and we are truly excited to invite you to Iceland, and we ensure you that although there has been some unusual volcanic activity lately (as you may have seen on the news), we will have a wonderful conference that will be memorable and interesting. We had already found a hotel, but to be on the safe side, we are finding an alternative conference hotel, far away from the volcanic activity within Iceland, for the conference.

The IRIS seminar welcomes research-in-progress and complete research papers by Ph.D. students and early career researchers. The seminar is organized in working groups wherein the research papers are discussed for an hour for constructive feedback by the working group participants. These discussions are traditionally deep and provide helpful advice for the future development of the papers.

The SCIS conference follows the traditional conference format where we welcome papers that focus on the conference theme of "Improving Society for ALL with IS". The SCIS sessions are held between the IRIS working groups, where each accepted paper in the SCIS sessions is presented in a traditional format, followed by a discussion and engagement with the audience.

We encourage high-quality submissions to this first-ever IRIS/SCIS conference to be held in Iceland.

The conference website is: irisscis.com, where you can find the template and information about the conference.
